AFoCO Regular Training Course on Project Development and Project Proposal Writing via On-line Platform

COURSE GUIDELINES

22 – 26 March, 2021
AFoCO Regional Education & Training Center (RETC)
Republic of Union of Myanmar

Secretariat for the Asian Forest Cooperation Organization
1. BACKGROUND

While AFoCO remains committed to undertake action-oriented forest cooperation activities, the Secretariat has been initiating efforts to develop programs and projects with relevance to the AFoCO Strategic Priority Areas. In order to have bigger impacts on achieving AFoCO’s vision and mission through promotion of regional cooperation, equitable and inclusive participation in project implementation, a number of regional project ideas were presented at the 4th Session of the Assembly held in November 2020. The Secretariat was tasked to facilitate necessary actions on the regional project development for its eventual approval at the upcoming Assembly according based on the indicative project development timeline for 2020-2021.

Moreover, there is a need to further develop more projects relating to climate change adaptation and mitigation in order to strike a balance among the five (5) priority areas of AFoCO. Such requirement has also been identified to be relevant with ongoing application of AFoCO as an Accredited Entity of the Green Climate Fund (GCF). Relatedly, the Secretariat is exploring channels to mobilize the GCF’s Readiness and Preparatory Support Programme (the Readiness Programme) as a delivery partner which will in turn serve as important corroboration to the said GCF application. It is necessary to discuss the potential Readiness Programme with member countries, with the hope that the Programme will pave the way for developing bigger GCF projects as and when AFoCO is granted the Accredited Entity status.

Despite that project documents are key tools for justifying investments in projects, the dearth of well-formulated and technically sound project proposals remains as one of the major constraints faced by member countries during fund-related negotiation. In the national context, there is a shortage of manpower with professional skills in designing sound and aid-worthy project proposals. There is a need to develop skills in project formulation in order to build the resource mobilization capacities of member countries to diversify and increase access to project funding sources.

In accordance with the approval of the Strategic Plan and Project Manual and related guidelines, this training course will provide valuable opportunities for member countries to share information on the project-related materials of AFoCO and develop their project formulation skills. Also, it would be a great opportunity to identify and potential AFoCO regional projects and GCF’s Readiness Programme and other funding opportunities in the near future.

2. OBJECTIVES

In general, the training course aims to foster greater understanding and enhance capacities of AFoCO Member Countries in the development of AFoCO projects and related undertakings. This will be achieved through the following objectives: 1) learn the step-by-step project formulation processes of AFoCO and other potential donors, 2) improve the project proposal skills of member countries taking into consideration AFoCO's Strategic Priority Areas and the requirements laid out in the Project Manual; 3) identify potential country-specific and regional projects to be implemented by AFoCO; and 4) identify potential Readiness Programme for GCF.
